SPEAKER

ALKER, GILL

Job title

Book and Claim Manager, RSB

CURRICULUM VITAE

Gill is RSB's Book & Claim Manager and is responsible for the implementation and expansion of RSB's innovative book and claim programme, which aims to expand the outreach of sustainable biomaterials and accelerate the decarbonisation of hard-to-abate sectors, such as shipping and aviation.

With over two decades of experience, Gill has been actively involved in advancing the sustainable bioeconomy since completing her PhD in Environmental Engineering in London.

Her journey includes diverse roles, such as a post-doctoral position focusing on bioenergy crops in Florida, waste and bioremediation researcher at a water research company in the UK, directorship of a perennial energy crop producer group, secondment to the UK Forestry Commission, and more recently, leading a team managing government incentive schemes for a company who own, operate, fuel and maintain a fleet of industrial and commercial biomass assets.

This project is funded by the European Union and implemented by EASA
